Take control of your subscriptions and save

ABOUT

Our mission at Subtraction is to enable you to take control of your subscriptions and save. Subtraction is the app we always wished existed. It brings together account linking and financial management with streaming content intelligence to optimize your recurring subscriptions for the content you care about most. It's the first app to leverage machine learning and artificial intelligence to connect financial data with streaming content data and determine your optimal subscription mix. We hope you enjoy using it as much as we enjoyed making it!
